YOUNG RACHEL:

My gran, who, let's get it straight, was a right miserable old cow . . . she had this saying. 'If you wanna make God laugh . . . just tell him your plans'. Sadly, that night on the rocks sort of proved the old cow right.

YOUNG RACHEL: Deb spent all night saying 'there's NEVER a time to stop singing'. We said goodbye. Went home diff'rent ways . . . (Beat.) Which is of course is why none of us saw the accident actually happen. She was just sort of dancing one minute and gone the next. An' funny, the first thing that changed was the music. Words to love songs suddenly reared up an' stung like nettles.
